

Cumulative docking-success curves are consistently higher under the conservative policy

